BIOGRAPHY

THE BEGINNINGS

Founded in 2019, CB Riders is a Canadian female-fronted country rock band delivering powerful, heart-driven anthems fueled by grit, passion, and authenticity. Known for their commanding stage presence, dynamic musicianship, and emotionally charged storytelling, the band captivates audiences with songs that celebrate freedom, resilience, and the spirit of everyday life.

THE MEMBERS

The group features Lisa Marie Beauchamp (lead vocals), Dominique Couture (acoustic guitar), André Bélanger (electric guitar), Daniel Boivin (bass guitar), and Carinne Boulé (backing vocals) and Gabriel Couture (drums). Bernard Quessy (keyboardist available upon request for larger-scale performances).

INSPIRATION

Drawing inspiration from country music powerhouses such as Shania Twain, Carrie Underwood, Lainey Wilson, Luke Combs, and Jason Aldean, CB Riders blends powerful vocals, driving guitars, and contemporary country-rock energy. Their live performances seamlessly combine original music with inventive reinterpretations of fan-favorite hits, creating an experience that feels both familiar and uniquely their own.

ALBUM

In November 2025, CB Riders recorded their debut album, We Live to Ride, co-produced by Ricky Paquette and recorded at the studio of acclaimed Canadian singer-songwriter Martin Deschamps. The album was officially released on February 21, 2026, marking a major milestone in the band's evolution and establishing their presence within Canada's country-rock landscape.

MEDIA

Even before its official release, the album “We Live to Ride” helped the band gain significant media attention through several notable appearances, including interviews on 104.7 Outaouais and GatineauTV, coverage in Le Droit, and a feature on Les Balados de Mario as part of the Première Écoute series.

EXPERIENCE

Continuing their upward momentum, CB Riders opened for Les Gars du Nord on the Hydro-Québec Stage at the Festival des Montgolfières de Gatineau in September 2026. A few months earlier, in June 2026, the band performed as a guest artist alongside Boom Desjardins and musicians from La Chicane at Les Étoiles de l’Outaouais, held at Salle Odyssée at the Maison de la culture de Gatineau in support of the Red Robin Equestrian Foundation. February 21, 2026, marked an important milestone with the official release of the album We Live to Ride, recorded in November 2025. In October 2025 and 2026, CB Riders performed at the Slush Puppie Centre as part of the Gatineau Olympiques’ (QMJHL) Country Night. That same year, the band took part in the Papineauville Theme Night, the Jeunesse à nos portes benefit event in support of Studio Adojeune, as well as the 50th anniversary of the Festival de la Pakwaun in Maniwaki. In 2024, CB Riders was selected as the house band at Nash Boîte Country Bar and opening act for Canadian country artist Phil Lauzon and Break Syndical well-known for their Hommage aux Cowboys Fringants. Other performance highlights include the Festival Outaouais en fête (2022), appearances as part of Propulsion Scène’s artistic programming (2021 and 2022), and a fundraising event for the Maison Gilles-Carle de l’Outaouais (2022). Since 2019, CB Riders has also performed at a variety of corporate and private events.

VISUAL IDENTITY

Combining electrifying performances with a distinctive visual identity, CB Riders delivers a live show that is as memorable to watch as it is to hear. The band’s stage presence is elevated by couture creations from internationally renowned designer Richard Robinson, bringing elegance, originality, and sophistication to every appearance.

With a steadily growing fan base, increasing media exposure, appearances at major festivals and events, and an undeniable passion for live performance, CB Riders continues to build momentum and expand its reach beyond the regional stage, establishing an increasingly visible presence within the Canadian country-rock landscape.
